

About us

The Friends of Schomberg House is a society which helps to support the Museum of Orange Heritage in Belfast. This can be financial support through fundraising programmes to preserve and develop the collections, or the provision of help when appropriate. The Friends group also helps to foster an interest in the Museum at home and overseas.

About the Museum of Orange Heritage

The Museum of Orange Heritage at Schomberg House aims to educate, encourage understanding, address negative perceptions and build confidence with all those that come to visit.

This site focuses on the history and traditions of the Orange Institution, beginning with the Glorious Revolution, and travels right through until the present day. There is also a strong focus on Orangeism around the world with an exciting collection of artefacts to enhance the story of the Institution.
